About ESOMAR

ESOMAR has been guiding industry change for 70 years.

ESOMAR is the global voice of the data, research and insights community, representing a network of 35,000 data professionals.

ESOMAR members are driving professional standards globally through the use of the ICC/ESOMAR International Code on Market, Opinion, Social Research and Data Analytics - endorsed by more than 67 global research associations - and members have a first-class self-regulation record.

Membership at ESOMAR provides expert advice, support and legal updates.

For 70 years, ESOMAR has been guiding, regulating, promoting and celebrating market, social and opinion research and is committed to driving a future-proof market research industry.

As ESOMAR enters its 70th year, the community continues to see growth and evolution, both through the Young ESOMAR Society (YES) and YES Corporate members.
